

Sheebah Kalungi
reveals her pregnancy
in a concert named
neyanziza at Lugogo
cricket oval though
father not yet revealed followed by singer Topic Kasente's fall off stage
p-5-6

UGANDAN TIMES

Truth everyday

Why second tier towns
are perfect places for investment. Real estate investors have been setting up
infstructures in seond
tier towns as kampala
becomes expensive
p-22-23

Sunday, 5th, 2024 1 US$ 2,000 (K.Shs. 107: RF. 950 : TShs 1,600 /ugandantimes/ www.ugandantimes.com.ug$

Kiteezi has worsened the Health Budget burden

Dr. Lillian Aber has distributed relief funds worth Shs. 18 million to the 18 victims identified from Kiteezi Landfall disaster. For the last four financial years, we've been aguing for additional funding for Kiteezi landfall as first priority Uganda red cross society as well has laid strategies to help those affested in the Kiteezi by providing first aids to the affected persons. Through their aim of protecting life health and ensure respect for the human life by erecting white tents in the nearby Kiteezi Elementary school courtyard, whenever around 20 people mostly children took shelter. p-2-3

Accountant Natasha Nanyonyozi is the new miss Uganda having beaten 25 contestants to crown in wee hours of sunday morning at Sheraton Kampala Hotel. As part of her prize, she won a Toyota Wish and a prestigious title. She also visted the Kiteezi land full in pagent attire and crown. p-7

Women in Technology Uganda

WITU is a nonprofit company started by women for women. The goal of WITU is to connect young women from undersrved communities to dignified and meaningfull computing skills to transform the lives of women and girls

Contact us to be paired with a WITU Mentor and become one of thousands of WITU participants, educated in science, technology, engeneering, and math through strategic programs.

p-15

uganda cranes represents Uganda in association football and is controlled by federation of Uganda Football associations.

p 14

PRESIDENTIAL SPEECH ADDRESSING POVERTY

Mr. Yoweri Museveni warned his Government officials against wasting government resources amidst the challenges of poverty and unemployment. He has today rallied Ugandans to utilise the available various government programs to get themselves out of poverty. We can reach the end of poverty only if we mark a path toward a more robust and inclusive growth that is unparaleled in modern times. p-8